Prior to the release of your live AI, we recommend that you watch the exam technique videos and attempt past Case Study exams so that you master your exam technique. When your live AI comes out, you are simply applying the technique to your specific case study business. To support you with this, the course also includes our AI analysis and mock exams for recent past exams, including two mock exams from July 2024 which have been amended to include pre-populated spreadsheets.

†Please note that our November 2026 AI Analysis document and mock exam, marking grid and model answer documents are sold separately from the video course. The November 2026 video course only includes the November 2026 videos and does not include the November 2026 AI Analysis and mock exam documents which are sold separately.
